THE COUNTY CAMPAIGN DRAWS TO A CLOSE

The Candidates All Present Their Claims and Speak of Their Records—All Favor Economy, Roads and Schools

The county campaign is going along nicely. The meetings are fairly well attended, good barbecues are being served, fine lemonade is being sold and the candidates are conducting their campaigns in a friendly way. The meetings so far held have been at Young's Grove, Keitt's, Pitts, Pomaria, Whitmire, Mollohon and Silverstreet.

It was our pleasure to attend the Silverstreet meeting on Tuesday. We have not been able to get to the other meetings except the first at Young's Grove. The Silverstreet meeting was composed of an audience, not very large, but very attentive to what the candidates had to say. All of the speakers received applause. County Chairman Wheeler presided. The candidates for the House of Representatives spoke first.

Mr. W. R. Watson was the first to address the voters. He told of his work as a banker for many years at Whitmire and of his close contact with the farmers of that section. He said he had few promises to make; that this was his first entry in politics; that he knew nothing about the legislature from experience, but that he felt that he could learn. He stood for liberal, but not extravagant appropriations for the state institutions of learning. He thought the state and county should be conducted as a good business man would conduct his own business; he favored good roads and schools.

The next speaker, Mr. W. M. Wilson, spoke of his experiences in the days of 1876; related his business qualifications and his life as a farmer, stock dealer and intendant of Peaks. He said that certain taxes could not be reduced, namely, taxes to pay for the bonds that had been voted for better roads; that the people had voted these bonds and would have to pay them. He promised to do the best he could and felt that he was fitted for the office he sought. Favored economy in all appropriations.

Mr. Eugene S. Blease thanked the voters for having chosen him last year to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Geo. S. Mower. Said that it took time to do things in the legislature and explained fully how the general assembly was composed and how it worked in the passage and repeal of laws. His promises for the future could be best made by telling what he had done and tried to do in the past session. He recounted his services on the Judiciary committee, one of the two most important committees in the house. Pointed out that through his work, in cooperation with other members, has reduced the appropriation bill of the state more than $695,000; reduced the state tax levy more than one-third; reduced the county tax levy one-half mill even when the delegation had put in one mill for the building of good roads. He pointed out a list of over 30 officers' salaries which had been reduced by conference committee of which he was a member. Told of his starting the fight for the appropriations for the country and cotton mill schools when it appeared that many of these schools would have to be closed. He fought all new appropriations and tried to reduce old ones. Especially did he oppose the $6,000 for the boat for the state game warden which had been mentioned in the campaign. He voted and spoke against the legislature meeting on Sunday and thought the fight of last session on that question meant that there would be no Sabbath legislation next year. He had continued his fight to reduce taxation and lift the burden from those not able to bear it.

Mr. W. B. Boineest, the next speaker, said he was a farmer and would stand for the interests of the farmers and all the people, as best he could, if he should be elected. Spoke of his service in the house of representatives some years ago. He had stood for economy at that time and would do so again. He was against useless officers and extravagant appropriations. He favored good roads and good schools and would do the best he could to obtain

MOONLIGHT PICNIC AT HENDERSON'S PASTURE

A delightful social affair was the moonlight picnic given by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harmon in honor of their guests, Mrs. M. V. Dodgen and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tysinger of Charlotte, N. C., at Henderson's pasture.

The evening was spent in playing outdoor games and singing. Mr. and Mrs. Tysinger sang a comical song, "Chicken." Then lunch was served which was followed by a watermelon cutting.

Woman's College Alumnae

The Newberry division of the Due West Woman's College Alumnae association will meet with Mrs. J. W. Carson on Tuesday afternoon, August 29, at 4 o'clock. All alumnae and former students of the college are most cordially invited to be present at the meeting.

He thought taxes were too high and there should be reductions.

The next speaker, Mr. H. H. Evans, also favored economy. He told of his services of several years in the house of representatives. He explained fully to his audience how the general assembly worked on Sunday and called it Saturday, by having the sergeant-at-arms of the bodies to turn back the clocks when the hands were getting ready to point to twelve o'clock Saturday night. He favored appropriations for the common schools and for good roads. He explained to his hearers how the legislature did its work and told of his being chairman of the railroad committee when he was last a member. He spoke of the depression of the farmers and of his sufferings as one of them and promised to try to aid them.

Dr. J. W. Folk spoke of having opposed woman suffrage but now that it was upon us he welcomed the new voters. He paid a glowing tribute to women. Said he had three sons and each of these three sons had ten sisters. The audience went to figuring how many children the speaker had. He spoke against the legislature holding meetings on Sunday and pointed to passages in the Bible against it. He told of his services in getting the roads of Newberry county built and the streets of the town of Newberry paved. He also told of how he had worked in the legislature for the little country schools. He was opposed to high taxes but favored taxes for schools and roads. Said the voters must vote for three men for the house and scratch out the names of four and begged them to not scratch his name.

Dr. Euston N. Kibler, present representative, was the last speaker for the house. He argued in behalf of cooperation among all our people in the present stress and pointed out how this was necessary if we were to have good schools and good roads and all the other things necessary for the comfort and happiness of the people. He said that a man could not learn everything in the legislature in one term; that it took time to get acquainted with the members, to learn how to do the work there; that he felt now more able to really represent the people than he was when he was elected two years ago. He had voted for the house to adjourn over from Sunday to Monday. He had voted for the common schools and had opposed extravagant and unnecessary appropriations and useless offices and officers. He promised to render the best service he could. He was thankful that he had been honored in the past and would appreciate reelection.

The candidates for magistrate, Messrs. J. H. Chappell, C. W. Douglas, W. H. Graddick, W. S. Jones and E. L. Rodelsperger, made brief statements. All of them spoke of the importance of the office and promised faithful service if elected.

Mr. J. M. Nichols served an extra nice barbecue dinner, which many people, including a large number of ladies, enjoyed.

The county campaign will be held at Hunter-DeWalt school house today (Friday) and at Newberry court house next Monday, the 25th of August, at 10 o'clock a. m. The election comes off on Tuesday next, August 29th. The polls will open at 8 o'clock and close at 4 o'clock.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH

There will be a series of Revival Services at Central Methodist Church beginning September 3, and running through September 17. There will be two services daily, at 10 A. M. and 8 P. M.

Rev. J. H. Danner of Charleston, South Carolina, will do the preaching and Professor C. P. Curry of Hendersonville, N. C., will be the leader in song. Rev. Mr. Danner is a strong preacher and Professor Curry is an excellent singer. His solos will be great to hear. oGod preaching by a consecrated man, and excellent singing by a strong choir led by Professor Curry. We extend a pressing invitation to all the people of all denominations to attend these services.

MR. MARTIN L. STRAUSS

Mr. Martin L. Strauss died very suddenly at his home on Monday evening, the 21st, at four o'clock. He was sitting on the porch talking with his brother and Mr. R. N. Taylor, and all of a sudden fell from his chair, after which he only breathed a time or so.

Mr. Strauss has been in failing health for more than a year and for the past few weeks heart trouble set in with other complications which carried him away.

His death was not a surprise to those who were acquainted with his condition.

I visited him on Sunday evening before he died. He told me that he was feeling better, could eat most anything he wanted, but could not sleep very much. He did not seem to be despondent over his condition. He ate a very hearty dinner at the table with the rest of the family just a few hours before he died, and nursed his little infant babe a short while.

He leaves to mourn his departure a widow and four children, two boys and two girls, the little babe only ten days old.

You will never find a man who was closer devoted to his brother and family than Martin L. Strauss. He has lived a near neighbor to me for 38 years, and it is a great source of satisfaction to say that there has never been anything unpleasant to occur between us. He was a very generous hearted man and one of even temperament, slow to anger, pleasant and always wore a smiling countenance.

He was married to Miss Annie Bobb Feb. 9, 1916, and they lived happily together for only a short period of six and a half years.

The deceased was a good financier and leaves a large estate. He will be missed not only in the community where he lived but throughout the county.

The burial services were held at the home Tuesday at 3 p. m. by Rev. L. P. Boland and the body was laid to rest in the family grave yard near the home, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and neighbors which bore evidence of the high esteem in which he was held. The following were the pall bearers: S. R. Metts, J. E. Long, J. I. Boland, P. H. Kinard, David Halfacre, L. P. Gallman, T. L. B. Epps, J. D. H. Kinard. The grave was beautifully decorated with flowers.

Silverstreet to Hear Rev. Black

Rev. H. J. Black, president of the South Carolina synod, will preach at the Silverstreet Lutheran church on Sunday morning, August 27th, at 11 o'clock. Probably he will preach also in the afternoon or evening. The public is invited.

There will be one hour's choir practice at the parsonage Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. All interested in singing will please come promptly.

Thos. F. Suber,
Pastor.

Attention Club Women

The meeting of the Council of Farm Women has been postponed until Saturday, September 2 at 3 o'clock at chamber of commerce rooms. Owing to illness of the president, the duties assigned her could not be perfected. Every club member is a member of the council. Please try to be present.

Mrs. C. A. Matthews,
President.

RECALLING THE GOOD OLD DAYS AT ST. PAUL'S

I was glad of the opportunity to go down to my old mother church, St. Paul's, last Sunday to help them celebrate their annual Old Folk's day. I believe they have concluded to call it Home Coming day. I like this wording much better because home has always had a sweet sound to me.

Early in the morning the weather looked very threatening and I began to fear that it was going to be a rainy day. But we can never tell what is in a cloud until it passes by. It turned out to be a beautiful day.

We never go down into this old grove but what sweet memories of our boyhood days flash through our mind, which bring both feeling of joy and feeling of sorrow. For the past 54 years I have been going to old St. Paul's, which is my spiritual birthplace. And I always think of the voice of that blessed old servant who so faithfully pleaded and prayed for the salvation of my soul and all others. For 44 years telling us so often if we missed heaven we would miss everything.

That voice is now still, never to be heard inside of the walls of old St. Paul's church again. That body lies mouldering in the ground out in the cemetery near the place where he gave his life of service.

St. Paul says: "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord; from henceforth, yea, sayeth the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them." And I feel that the congregation will join with me in saying, thank God for the life work and example of the Rev. Dr. J. A. Sligh, for his good works do follow him.

After the Sunday school hour Dr. Gotwald preached from Psalm 6:23: "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever." Dr. Gotwald's sermon was very appropriate to the occasion. It carried a message of inspiration and divine love, and the large congregation present gave him very close attention.

These were the hymns for the morning service: "Just as I Am, Without One Plea"; "Jesus Lover of my Soul"; "A Charge to Keep I Have." The singing of these good old hymns made me think of our old time religion.

The dinner hour was announced by Pastor Koon and a hearty welcome was given to all present to partake of a bountiful spread under the shade of the old oak trees on the left fronting the church. The good people of St. Paul's are noted for their hospitality.

During the noon hour I went in the grave yard to see the place where the bodies of my father and mother-in-law lie, and as I stood and read the epitaphs on their tombs, I thought of the last word Father Epps spoke to me before he died. As he held my hand, he said, "I love you." These words were spoken 38 years ago, but they remain fresh in my memory as long as I live, and not many days pass that they do not come to my mind.

The cemetery is in fine condition, no grass, weeds, briars and vines to be seen. It is just as clean as a yard. This speaks praise to our people.

Col. E. H. Aull again showed that fatherly and motherly love by bringing his good old parents down to the home coming day where they had worshipped and held their membership the thirteen years that they lived in this community. You may speak hard things about Col. Aull, but the love and care he shows for his parents is proof enough for me that there is something good about him. When I hear of a child who turns his back on his parents there is nothing more they can do to restore their confidence to me that I love to have for my fellow man.

A little after 2 o'clock we were called back into the church to listen to a most excellent address by Dr. J. V. Long. He paid a high tribute to Dr. J. A. Sligh and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Aull. Everything he said was to the point and well spoken, an evidence of Dr. Long's ability. He is kept on the go.

This ended another good day for old St. Paul's.

NEWBERRY COLLEGE MAKING READY FOR OPENING SESSION

Summer School Great Success—All Dormitories Nearly Taken Up Prospects Look Good

The summer session at Newberry college closed on August 18th. Very fine work was done by the members of the summer school faculty and by the students. Practically all the students remained through the entire term and took the final examinations. The total enrollment was 154. Of this number 100 were public school teachers. Prof. Jas. C. Kinard of the college faculty was director.

The next session of Newberry college will begin September 12-14. Those students expecting to take the entrance examinations will report on September 12. The formal opening will be held at nine o'clock Thursday morning, Sept. 14th.

The football squad will report September 9th. Practice will begin on the following Monday.

The prospect for attendance next session is very good. The enrollment will be as large as the college can take care of. Any prospective student who has not yet made his application for a room in the dormitory is urged to do so at once.

Work on the new athletic field will be completed in a few weeks. There is good ground for the hope that a new gymnasium will be one of the accomplishments of the coming year.

Newberry college will give a good account of itself in athletics this session. The basketball and baseball championships were won last year and a fine record made in football. Watch the "Scarlet and Gray" in each of the three major sports this year.

"Dutch" MacLean will be with the college again.

There will be no change in the faculty. This is especially pleasing to the patrons of the college, who recognize the eminent ability and faithfulness of the men on the Newberry college faculty.

ENTERTAINMENT ST. PHILIPS SCHOOL WEDNESDAY, AUG. 6

There will be two short plays, "Thirty Minutes for Refreshments," and "Akin Her Father," given at St. Philips school house by the young people of the community Wednesday evening, August 30th, at 8:00 o'clock.

Following are the characters in "Thirty Minutes for Refreshments": Polly—Agnes Ringer.

Clarence—Harvey Halfacre. Major Pepper—Govan Sease. Arabella Pepper—Lenora Half-acre.

Mr. Foxton—Bennie Lominick. Mrs. Forton—Frances Piester. Downley—Olin Lominick. Characters in "Akin Her Father": Polly—Daisy Wicker.

Pendleton Peppercorn—David Stone.

Famely Jane Peppercorn—Sara Lominick.

Priscilla Ann Peppercorn—Bessie Lominick.

Agustus Tyler—Fred Hentz.

The ladies of the St. Philips congregation will sell ice cream immediately after the play. The proceeds from the plays and from the cream will be used to help buy carpet for the church.

Let everybody come and enjoy an evening of side-splitting fun and help a good cause.

Reedy River Association

This historic body meets with Sada church at Chappells on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 5 and 6, in annual session. Every church should have a full delegation of messengers present. All delegates and visitors who intend remaining over night will kindly forward their names to one of the following committee on entertainment: J. B. Scurry, A. P. Coleman, V. E. Dominick; all of Chappells. Those coming by railway will please advise as to time of arrival.

Come for the opening and remain for the final adjournment, if you can. A most cordial welcome awaits you.

G. R. Pettigrew.

There are still some ex-service men who think congress is going to give them a bonus.

THE NEWS OF WHITMIRE

Newberry Representatives Cordially Welcomed—Good of Two Towns Talked Over

Whitmire, August 24.—

Last Friday we had a pleasant and profitable visit by Messrs. McDaniel, Carpenter and Summer of Newberry chamber of commerce. We soon got together our merchants, bankers, manufacturers, bakers and candlestick makers and had a fine meeting in Young Brothers store. Among the matters discussed were a transfer line of passengers and freight from here to Newberry; a way to get cream from this section to the county seat, and to find sale here for Newberry butter. The good effects of the meeting are already in evidence, as we buttered our buckwheat cakes this morning with the product of Newberry Creamery.

For some time there has been a transfer from here to Union, which is well patronized, especially on Saturdays by mill people, who go there to trade. All this traffic could be turned to Newberry if we only had conveyance at a reasonable rate. It will handsomely pay Newberry merchants to wake up and get in closer touch with the little city of Whitmire.

We were honored with the county caregivers last Saturday. They were all sober and solicitous of votes and had a good crowd on whom to vent their eloquence. Will Watson and Eugene Blease received the greatest applause. Dr. Folk was also well received, especially by the many ladies present to whom he passed as a widower. Please see that Mrs. Folk doesn't get a copy of this, as there would be trouble in camp.

Our school will soon open and again "teach the young idea how to shoot," and the "school boy with shining morning face creep like a snail, unwillingly, to school." More room to the school building is being made by excavating and plastering the cellar.

Our ball team, after defeating Rock Hill on its own ground, played it three games here last week and of course we sent the visitors home in sack cloth and ashes. Whitmire team is on the top step of the ladder of amateur ballism. We shout and crow and challenge the world and all outside, more or less.

By the way, some of us were a little disappointed Saturday in W. R. Watson's speech. He didn't promise to make Whitmire a seaport town, nor did he give us a remedy for our financial troubles. Neither did he say, if elected, he would cause all events to flow as smoothly as cream down the throat of a healthy calf, nor put Wall Street into bankruptcy, nor change the price of postage stamps. Anyhow, we are proud of him, and he's going to pass the fellow in the race for the legislature who heads the ticket. The standing of one at home is the acid test of merit, so Will is "O. K."

Miss Ida Brannon has closed her millinery store and has gone into business with Mr. Simpson of the department store.

Luther Durkett of Wildwood, Fla., is on a visit to his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Durkett. Luther has a fine job with a Florida railroad.

The boll weevil got us hard and fast. In a short time a home-made bale of cotton will be a curiosity.

West End vs. Johnston

West End plays Johnston here Friday, August 25 at 5 p. m. This promises to be one of the best games of the season as Johnston has a good club and will possibly bring a new battery.

On Monday, August 28, at 5 p. m., West End plays Whitmire at West End park.

Every one knows what this means as Whitmire has won the state amateur championship for this season. West End intends to break the jinx this club has had over them all this season.

Admission 20 and 30 cents.

King George has gone to wearing a derby hat, and if he will not talk through it we will be all right.

Some modern chauffeurs are more daring than the old-time cowboys ever dreamed of being.
